

Music technology lessons are predominantly practical: listening, composing, arranging and learning to use